Laos Groups
Block Parley
Compromise

Rebels Demand Full Status

GENEVA (AP) — Two competing Laotian delegations Sunday night blocked a compromise hammered out by the big powers to get the 14-nation conference on Laos started Monday afternoon after a weekend of delays.

First a delegation of pro-Western Laotians representing the Vientiane government upset the apportionment. They refused to attend the opening session until their delegation leader arrives to supply guidance. Who he will be is not known here.

Then the pro-Communist Pathet Lao representatives also dug in their heels. They objected to plans for all three Laotian factions — the pro-Westerners, the Pathet Lao and their allies, the self-styled neutralists, to attend as separate observer groups but not as full participants.

A Pathet Lao spokesman said the rebels demand full status "because we are the masters of the country."

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home used all their persuasion on the Vientiane government delegation but failed to budge them. The Laotians were polite but firm.

Finally Lord Home telephoned

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, the other cochairman, and said plans to get the conference on the political future of Laos under way Monday could not be fulfilled.

A British source said Lord Home wants to get the conference started in a favorable atmosphere and would like to see the problem of who speaks for Laos ironed out without a public row in the conference room itself.

One source said most of the delegation leaders, including Rusk, were filing reports to their home capitals and seeking new instructions.

This informant put the chance of getting a meeting started Monday afternoon at about 50-50. The conference originally had been scheduled to get under way Friday.

The news from Laos itself added other elements difficult to fit into a pattern.

The delegations in Geneva have been informed by the International Control Commission that a cease-fire prevails in Laos. Yet one account from that Southeast Asian country told of fighting between Meo tribesmen and Pathet Lao rebels despite a formal truce Saturday.

Priority Row
Snags Laotian
Negotiations

BAN NAMONE, Laos (AP) — Laotian political peace talks opened in this rebel-held village Sunday and promptly bogged down in a basic dispute between pro-Communists and the royal government. Reports of new fighting complicated the dispute.

The pro-Western governments' representatives insisted the meeting should first discuss details of the military cease-fire agreed on Saturday. Then the conference could take up the possibility of a coalition government to unite all warring factions in Laos.

But the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels joined with so-called neutralists in demanding that the order of discussion be reversed. Since the rebels have the upper hand on the battlefield, their military superiority would become an even stronger factor in the political talks.

The confidence of the Pathet Lao was displayed by its chief delegate, Nounak Phoumsavan, who took a swipe at President Kennedy in his opening speech.

"Despite United States, Thai, South Vietnamese, Philippine and Chinese Nationalist intervention," he said, "we have won and Kennedy was forced to call for a cease-fire."

An indication of why the rebels are holding back on nailing down the final details of a cease-fire came in a report that heavy fighting erupted Sunday morning against Meo tribal guerrillas.

Informed sources said rebel artillery opened a barrage of about 50 rounds against well-entrenched Meo units around their rugged mountain capital of Padong, only about 20 miles from the rebel capital of Xieng Khouang. At least one man was wounded.

Meo units, who are the best fighters on the government side, fired back. Both sides used American-made 75 mm. guns and 4.2-inch mortars.

In their second day of talks, delegates from the three sides — the Pathet Lao, the pro-Western government and the neutralists representing Prince Souvanna Phouma, who claims to be Laos' legal premier — met for two hours in the sweltering heat of a rustic schoolhouse with a tin roof, dirt floor and bamboo walls.

Chiang Given
Assurances
By JohnsonVice President
Receives Warm
Taipei Welcome

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson sat down with President Chiang Kai-shek for two hours Sunday to reassure the Nationalist Chinese leader of America's unflinching economic and military support.

Carrying a personal message from President Kennedy, the U.S. vice president visited Chiang and Mme. Chiang at their residence in Scholar's Forest in suburban Taipei on this third stop of his Southeast Asian tour.

Chiang's response came in a toast at an evening banquet. The 73-year-old president said Johnson's visit is of the "greatest significance" because it "is taking place at a time when Asia is in the midst of a crisis because of the situation in Laos and fully testifies to the importance which your government attaches to the Communist menace in the Far East."

Tumultuous Welcome

Johnson replied: "America stands firmly with her Chinese allies. We shall continue to do so until freedom is secure."

The meetings with Chiang capped a day of tumultuous welcome for Johnson after his arrival here on a special fact-finding tour for Kennedy. Johnson responded to the eager, cheering crowds by leaving his open-top car on 10 separate occasions to mingle with the people and even dandle a few babies.

His enthusiasm was infectious — China's vice president, Chen Cheng, dropped his normal reserve and joined in, shaking hands with schoolchildren and their parents in their Sunday best.

The tone of Johnson's welcome by the Chiangs was cordial. They greeted him at the doorstep of their home, and Mme. Chiang inquired about Kennedy's health.

"He's in excellent health, has good spirits and plenty of problems," Johnson replied.

Frank, Candid Talks

After the meeting, Johnson told newsmen the talks were frank and candid.

"We expressed the viewpoints of the two governments on a variety of matters all relating to freedom in the world," he said.

Johnson's visit to Taipei was an important gesture to demonstrate to Chiang that the Kennedy administration has not left him out of its plans to combat communism in Asia. Chiang has been fighting communism since 1927.

Campaign statements by Kennedy concerning Quemoy and the words of some of the President's foreign policy advisers indicating the possibility of a new look at U.S. policy on China have caused concern in Chiang's government.

Its most immediate diplomatic problem is to block a growing movement among U.S. allies in favor of seating Communist China in the United Nations. Informants said Johnson brought Chiang assurances of Washington's uncompromising opposition to this.

Gary Cooper Didn't Flinch, Consolated
Doctor When Told Life Nearing End

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When Gary Cooper first heard that he was going to die of cancer, he took it silently and bravely and then consoled the young doctor who had to break the first such tragic disclosure of his own career.

"I have never seen such courage in a man," Dr. Rex Kennamer said Sunday. "It was the first time I ever had to go through this myself and I guess Gary sensed it."

"He didn't say anything when I told him. He never even flinched. I left and later got a phone call from him."

"Young fellow, I know you were a little nervous about telling me the news. I just want you to know that I appreciate it. Thanks for telling me."

Cooper, Hollywood's most enduring star, died Saturday at his Holmby Hills home in West Los Angeles. He was just six days past his 60th birthday.

The funeral rites will be Tuesday morning at the Roman Catholic Church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills. Solemn requiem High Mass will be sung by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel Sullivan, the priest who attended Cooper in his final illness.

The Most Rev. Timothy Manning, auxiliary bishop of Los Angeles, is expected to give the eulogy. Pallbearers will be close friends: Jimmy Stewart, Jack Benny, Director Henry Hathaway and Producers Jerry Wald, William Goetz and Charles Feldman.

The doctor said Mrs. Cooper knew her husband had terminal cancer last December. Cooper was told two months ago.

Asked if Cooper knew he had cancer the night the Friars tossed a testimonial for him on Jan. 8,

"Freedom Riders"
Bus Stoned, Burned
In Ala. Race Flareup

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP) — Violence trailed a group of Negro and white persons testing desegregation at interstate bus stations in the Deep South Sunday.

A Greyhound bus carrying 14 persons, nine of them members of the "Freedom Riders," was stoned and burned outside of Anniston in Northern Alabama. Ten persons were taken to a hospital where they were treated, mostly for smoke inhalation.

At the Trailways bus station in Birmingham, violence erupted after a group of "Freedom Riders" arrived from Atlanta.

The group who sought to break the segregation barrier left Washington 10 days ago. They split into two groups in Atlanta and took separate buses — a Greyhound bus station was closed, but a crowd of between 150 and 200 persons milled around outside the station.

Joseph Perkins Jr., identified as field secretary of the self-styled "Freedom Riders," told a reporter several windows in the bus station at Anniston had been broken. He said some of the bus tires apparently had been cut, "because I could hear the air hissing."

The Greyhound bus had to stop six miles from Anniston because of a flat tire. Several automobiles filled with white men trailed the bus.

They sought to enter the vehicle, but were prevented from doing so by E. M. Cowling, a state investigator who stood in the doorway while the bus driver attempted to change the tire.

The crowd milled around outside. Cowling said, before an incendiary device was thrown through a broken rear window of the bus.

Smoke forced the passengers to leave. The bus was destroyed by fire.

There was some scuffling among passengers and the white group before highway patrolmen arrived.

Floyd Mann, Alabama director of public safety, said two state highway patrolmen fired shots into the air to disperse the crowd around the blazing bus.

"I think quick action by the patrolmen may have saved some lives," he said when reached by telephone at Montgomery.

Somebody in a nearby house called patrolmen at the Anniston post, Mann said, and when they reached the scene they had to push through the crowd around the bus to help the people out.

The group, under the sponsorship of the Congress of Racial Equality — CORE — started the journey from Washington with six white and seven Negro "Freedom Riders." Spokesmen said the number has fluctuated at various stops.

Several white men attacked the group inside the Birmingham station, beating a Negro youth and a white man apparently accompanying them.

The white men obviously waiting for the arrival of the bus, covered telephone booths and exits. They refused to permit a newsmen to use a telephone.

Pope Will Issue
New Encyclical

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII told a vast audience Sunday he soon will issue a new social encyclical dealing with modern problems of the world.

The document, to be released in a few weeks, will be a profound call to Christian workers and leaders of the world, the Pope said. It will be issued in commemoration of the 70th anniversary of the famed encyclical "Rerum Novarum" — Of New Things — issued by Pope Leo XIII May 15, 1891. This affirmed the Roman Catholic Church's stand on labor, property and social problems.

Pope John, 79, made it clear that his own document, supplementing that of Pope Leo, would deal with what he described as "the new, grave and at times perilous problems of our epoch."

He did not mention the word "communism," but many of the pontiff's references made it clear this challenge was very much on his mind.

The Pope spoke to more than 100,000 Christian workers assembled here from about 60 nations to commemorate the anniversary of the "Rerum Novarum." The bulk of the vast throng in St. Peter's Square, where the Pope received them, were members of Italian Workers for Catholic Action.

Monday the holiday ends and Kennedy flies back to Washington for a one-day stop. He departs Tuesday for Ottawa and a three-day official visit to Canada.

Snow Stalls
Cars In Two
West States

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Sunshine sparked in parts of southeastern Wyoming and northeastern Colorado Sunday as many residents spent Mother's Day shaking loose from a smothering snowstorm.

Highways were blocked by six-foot drifts, hundreds of cars were stalled and communications snarled by the vicious 24-hour storm that began clearing out of the two-state area at dawn.

Two Fort Collins, Colo., men and a five-year-old boy were reported found Sunday afternoon, 48 hours after they had gone into a mountainous area northwest of there. Deputy Sheriff A. G. Straub of the Larimer County sheriff's office said the three "apparently were in pretty good condition."

Straub said an air drop was being prepared with emergency rations and extra clothing for the three. A snow weasel—a tracked vehicle for traveling across deep snow—was sent to bring the three back to Fort Collins.

They were identified as David Pettus, an assistant professor of zoology at Colorado State University, his wife, Thomas, and Patrick Stalcup, a graduate student who came here recently from San Francisco State.

The trio left Fort Collins at 2 p.m. Friday, planning to return home that night. They were on a trip to mountain lakes to collect frogs.

All highways for a 50-mile radius from Cheyenne, Wyo., were blocked by drifted snow. Within that city some streets were clogged with six-foot drifts, whipped up by 40 mile an hour winds. It was sunny there Sunday.

About 1,000 residences in North Cheyenne were without electric power. The storm snapped lines Saturday morning and repairs have been unable to restore service.

The Wyoming Highway Patrol said between 800 and 900 cars were stalled in the immediate vicinity of Cheyenne.

At Laramie, 50 miles west of Cheyenne, about 1,000 persons who gathered there for special activities Saturday at the University of Wyoming, were stranded overnight.

The message was sent to refugee Cuban mothers in Miami, to be read at an outdoor rally. The Cuban mothers had planned a motorcade to Palm Beach in an attempt to see the President, but the temporary White House frowned on that. The message was substituted, plus a meeting here Sunday afternoon between a delegation of the mothers and three presidential aides.

Kennedy's three-paragraph greeting to the Cuban mothers said they personally had "encountered the sorrow and pain which accompany the fight for freedom."

"The mothers and fathers who in every generation have seen their sons fight for freedom have understood and lived through this grief," the President said.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy attended a 10 a. m. Mother's Day Mass at St. Edward's Roman Catholic church. The pastor, the Rev. Jeremiah P. O'Mahoney, S.J., said he had known Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy since 1939 and "the mother of the chief executive in Washington, the President of the United States, has never missed a devotion" when she has been in Palm Beach.

Kennedy has been leading a life of comparative ease here since Thursday, de-emphasizing work and concentrating on swimming, golf and just plain loafing.

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A conference shortly between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchhev is being considered, it was learned Sunday night, with the meeting given a 60-40 chance of actually developing.

Kennedy, here on a vacation, was of course, silent on the chances for the face-to-face meeting.

His press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said only that, "I don't know of any present plans for such a meeting." He refused to say whether any significance should be read into the words "at present."

Nevertheless, it was learned independently that discussions definitely are under way on the diplomatic level, at least, looking toward a distinct possibility that Kennedy and Khrushchhev will get together.

The initiative for a conference was understood to have come from Moscow rather than Washington, primarily in suggestions from Khrushchhev to U.S. Ambassador Lewellyn Thompson that Khrushchhev would like to meet the new American chief executive.

Decision Seen Within Week

Nothing has been settled at this point but a decision may be reached within a week.

And the chances are 60-40 favorable at the moment, in the American view, that a conference will be arranged.

The likelihood would be that Kennedy would go on to a meeting with the Soviet premier after conferring in Paris with President Charles De Gaulle of France.

Kennedy has three days of conferences set up with De Gaulle from May 31 to June 2.

Some neutral European city would be the likely meeting place for Kennedy and Khrushchhev. At this stage, both Stockholm and Vienna are definite contenders.

Kennedy apparently is receptive to the idea that he and the Soviet premier meet together shortly to try to form some basis for solving dangerous, urgent problems pressing down at various spots in the world.

NBC Says Allies Sounded Out

The National Broadcasting Co., in a newscast from here, had said that the administration was trying to work out a private meeting between the President and Khrushchhev and that U.S. allies had been approached on the idea.

There is some reason to believe Kennedy has already sent word to Khrushchhev of his interest in arranging a face-to-face discussion of critical cold war issues but particularly the deadlocked negotiations for a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests.

The President is known to be deeply concerned about the failure of these negotiations to make any substantial progress toward agreement since he took office almost four months ago.

State Department officials declined any comment on the report of a possible Kennedy-Khrushchhev get-together, that being considered in the department as a matter for the White House.

Kennedy, since taking office, has met personally with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany. His meeting with De Gaulle, according to present administration thinking would precede any meeting with Khrushchhev.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk attended a meeting of all the North Atlantic allied foreign ministers in Oslo last week and could have discussed the possibility of a Kennedy-Khrushchhev session at that time in private conversations with individual ministers.

Rusk then flew on to Geneva for the conference on Laos. With-

General Sounds Soviet
Space Control Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force general says the Soviet Union may soon be able to control orbital space as expertly as the vehicles—either manned or unmanned—from using it.

To prevent this, says Brig. Gen. Don Flickinger, the United States must put its full effort into developing a "sophisticated" manned space flight capability in which he feels this nation trails the Soviet Union by years.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has indicated it will try late in 1961 or early in 1962 to orbit one of the Project Mercury astronauts once around the earth and return him safely. Soviet Yuri Gagarin made such a trip in April.

But Flickinger, head of the Air Force space life science program, told the House Space Committee it may be 3½ to 4 years before the United States can carry out orbital flight as expertly as the Soviets did it on Gagarin's space voyage.

In testimony released Sunday, Flickinger said: "Were I to honestly review every program I know is going on in support of manned space flight, and tell you how soon we would duplicate what was done in terms of Gagarin, I would say three and a half to four years."

Flickinger, speaking cautiously to avoid the appearance of criticizing decisions made by his military superiors and the administration, said the United States has not devoted enough attention to the military aspects of manned space flight.

Goldfine Tax Evasion Trial To Open Today

BOSTON (UPI) — The six-figure income tax evasion trial of Bernard Goldfine will begin Monday in what promises to be a sensational review of the gift-giving millionaire's far flung activities in politics, commerce and finance.

The cast of characters is headed by the 70-year-old defendant, a Russian immigrant who found wealth in textiles and real estate and hobnobbed with men of influence in the capitals of state and nation.

Goldfine was known mainly as a quiet and prosperous survivor in the declining New England textile industry and until 1958 when a congressional investigation linked his name with leading political figures, most of them recipients of the millionaire's largesse.

Goldfine's troubles with federal regulatory agencies were solved without major difficulty but tax agents began investigating and he was indicted March 11, 1960.

The government charged willful evasion of $450,000 in personal taxes from 1953 through 1957 and $300,000 in taxes of Goldfine's Strathmore Woolen Co.

This is less than half the total claimed in a separate civil claim for $1,682,000 against Goldfine and his wife Charlotte. The civil claim, denied by the couple, is not on trial now.

Two-hundred prospective jurors are on tap for selection to sit on the case which was postponed last March because of alleged prejudice in newspaper stories.

It had been postponed once before when Goldfine was found mentally incompetent to stand trial last October after spending 90 days in federal prison at Danbury.

After months in hospitals he got a clean bill of health last February.

Mueller's Death Believed Suicide

BERLIN (AP) — The West Berlin press speculated Sunday that the sudden death of a retired East German general, Vincenz Mueller, was suicide.

Mueller's death at the age of 66 was announced Friday by the official Communist East German news agency, ADN. It gave no cause of death nor any details of the circumstances. Mueller, who retired in 1958 as a professional soldier who had a big role in building up the East German army.

The West Berlin Telegraph said "All indications are that Mueller did not die a natural death." It went on to say it had been tipped from East Berlin that Mueller jumped out of the third-floor window of his suburban home at 4:30 a.m. Friday.

Navy Unveils Gently-Landing Rocket Vehicle

CHINA LAKE, Calif. (AP) — The first rocket-powered vehicle to land gently — a feat vital for putting men and instruments on the moon and planets — was disclosed by the Navy Sunday.

The eight-foot-tall Soft Landing Vehicle — SLV — prototype recently demonstrated here looks like a bowling ball perched on a bar stool. A spokesman said future models will bear a closer resemblance to conventional rockets.

The SLV's four legs are slim fuel tanks. The ball at the top contains nitrogen under high pressure to force the fuel into the rocket engine slung between the legs.

What makes the SLV different from other rockets — and gives it the ability to hover and make soft landings — is the engine itself. It burns hypergolic fuels—liquids which ignite spontaneously when mixed in the thrust chamber—and throttles their exhaust like the accelerator in an automobile.

This permits the rocket to climb at variable speeds, hover at any heights and lower itself at whatever speed is desired. The engine can be started and stopped many times, the Navy said.

Most current rockets burn full blast until their fuel is exhausted.

Seals Turn Out To Be Old Bombs

KINGS LYNN, England (AP)—A lone seal frolicking in the shallow waters of The Wash is not a rare sight here, but 19 of them lying down are worth a closer look.

That's what river board surveyor John Smith thought he saw as he toured the Terrington marshes nearby. But instead of seals, he discovered 19 bombs, relics of a World War II Royal Air Force bomb dump.

Army bomb disposal experts were called in Saturday night. The area, a favorite weekend picnic spot, was cordoned off while they went to work disarming the 250-pound bombs.

Mandatory Whippings For Major Crime Urged

DOVER, Del. (AP) — More than a year ago, an employee at a gasoline station owned by State Sen. Jesse F. Watson was beaten and robbed. As a result, the senator is trying to make whipping a mandatory punishment for armed robbery and rape.

"People don't usually do anything unless a personal interest or experience gets them started, and I'm no exception," the senator explained Sunday.

"Something has got to be done about the growing rate of violent crimes. They call whipping old-fashioned, but clothing designers have revived hats which were fashionable 30 years ago and they've sold. Maybe whipping will come back, too."

Watson, 34, who voted with the majority to abolish capital punishment in Delaware, has been the principal sponsor of two whipping bills. The first was passed by the legislature last year, but was vetoed by Republican Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, now a U.S. senator. He called it barbaric.

The second has been reported out of Senate committee, and Watson says he'll bring it to the floor soon. But Gov. Elbert N. Carvel—a Democrat like Watson—already has indicated that he will veto the measure. He calls whipping uncivilized.

Former Iranian Leader Quizzed On Corruption

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A Ministry of Justice spokesman said a government investigator summoned former Premier Manuchehr Eghbal and two ex-Cabinet ministers Sunday for questioning in Iran's anticorruption drive.

Eghbal, now ambassador to London, has not been arrested, the spokesman said, but will be questioned about the rigging of last year's national elections.

Police rounded up other suspects and a special guard was stationed at Mehrabad Airport to prevent suspects fleeing as Premier Ali Amini's crackdown against suspected bribe-takers and embezzlers of government money swung into high gear.

Summoned to appear with Eghbal were Gen. Alavi Moghadam, exminister of the interior and police chief during Eghbal's regime, and Mosa Khatatan, Eghbal's minister of customs and monopolies.

Moghadam was one of four army generals arrested Saturday night by military police. He could face up to 20 years imprisonment and loss of property if convicted of corruption charges.

Security authorities said a fifth general whose arrest was reported had been out of country for three weeks, probably in Italy or Switzerland. He is Mohammed Daftari, former chief of the army arsenal.

Amini, former ambassador to Washington, took over the government May 6 with a pledge to end rampant corruption, institute reforms and try to save Iran from economic chaos.

As part of his reforms Amini ordered Iranian diplomatic missions abroad and officials at home to slash entertainment expenses.

The premier's circular said at all future receptions there must be "absolutely no alcoholic drinks." It is estimated Amini will be able to save Iran at least a million dollars annually by this restriction.

Jackie To Take 9-Piece Wardrobe To Canada

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy has picked a nine-piece wardrobe, including two glamorous formal, for her three-day state visit to Canada this week.

Her outfits, designed as usual by Oleg Cassini of New York, were selected with an eye to weather changes. They include a wide range of colors.

Mrs. Kennedy will be accompanying the President on his first official visit to a foreign country and her dress is sure to attract attention from the Canadians. They'll get a good sample of the popular "Jacqueline Kennedy look."

The White House, releasing Sunday details of Mrs. Kennedy's wardrobe, listed no information about hats or accessories, but listed three coats, three daytime dresses, two formal gowns and a suit.

Her press secretary explained that Mrs. Kennedy's hats will be "the usual-back-of-the-head pill-box type."

For her first appearance and jet-plane traveling costume, America's First Lady will wear a lightweight wool navy blue sheath dress with cap sleeves and a bateau neckline and a matching wool coat, double-breasted with a low belt, deep patch pockets and three-quarter length sleeves.

In this outfit, Canadians will see beautiful, brunette, 5-foot-7 Mrs. Kennedy as she takes part in the official welcome late Tuesday afternoon at Uplands Airport and drives with her husband through the streets of Ottawa to the residence of the governor general.

Then she'll change into a heavy white silk long evening gown with a slim skirt and sleeveless belted overblouse for the formal state dinner and reception given for the Kennedys by the governor general at his residence, Rideau Hall, Tuesday night. This gown has embroidered detail of white beads and brilliants at the neck of the overblouse and hem of the skirt.

On Wednesday, to lunch with the prime minister, Mrs. Kennedy has selected a beige, ribbed-silk ottoman two-piece dress. The overblouse is sleeveless and bateau-

GOP Rep. Sibal Urges Party To Close Ranks In 1964 Like Demos Did In 1960

Donald Mason Elected Md. Federation Vice President

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—As a result of that unity, Sibal, congressman from Connecticut, told the gathering, "they (the Democrats) now have control of the government and we are the minority."

Earlier the young Republicans heard Rufus Peckham, national federation vice chairman, attack President Kennedy as having made the statement Saturday night before the convention here and having upheld a policy of the Maryland Federation of Young Republicans.

He urged that all Republicans demonstrate full party unity in the order to achieve victory in the 1964 campaign—the kind of unity which he said made possible the Democratic victory in 1960.

Cleoneice Tavani, Baltimore, national committeewoman; Donald Mason, Allegany County, vice president; Doris Miles, Washington County, recording secretary; Georgia Evans, Baltimore, corresponding secretary and Fred McFarlin, Baltimore, treasurer.

Another speaker at the annual convention of the federation was D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Maryland, who said former President Eisenhower put a stop to the Korean War and brought peace to the nation.

"But the opposition made an issue of downgrading American prestige" during last year's campaign, Rinehart told the delegates.

Later Rep. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., assailed the administration of Gov. Tawes, specifically citing the creation by the 1961 General Assembly of Maryland's Eighth Congressional District.

He said the definition of the district's boundaries—encompassing Prince Georges and Howard Counties—"violates every concept of fair and reasonable congressional districting."

Willie Shoemaker, the jockey, is nearing 4,000 winners and he is surpassed only by Johnny Longden and Eddie Arcaro.

Savings-Loan Council Seeks Gov. Tawes' Aid

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Tawes has been asked to use the influence of his office to head off a petition drive which would force a referendum on a bill regulating Maryland's $1.5 billion savings and loan industry.

The Independent Savings and Loan Council of Maryland, representing about 50 of the state's 500 chartered savings and loan institutions, asked Tawes in a telegram to call a special session of the General Assembly for repassage of the legislation—if the petition drive succeeds.

A spokesman for the powerful Trenton Democratic Club in northwest Baltimore had said petitions were available there for circulation.

The controversial savings and loan bill, commonly called the Case Bill, sets up a commission to enforce new regulations controlling the industry.

The measure was drafted by a commission headed by Baltimore attorney Richard W. Case. It already has been signed into law by Tawes.

"This is a bill that everybody can live with and work under and it doesn't discriminate against any association," said David J. Preller, former president of the Maryland council.

The telegram said the council's members "voted unanimously to announce wholehearted support" of legislation regulating state-chartered institutions.

Adlai Will Address Princeton Alumni

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Princeton Club of Washington Wednesday at the Chevy Chase Club.

Alleghany Corp. Meeting May 23

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles T. Ireland Jr., president of the Alleghany Corp., announced Sunday that the company's adjourned annual meeting will be reconvened in Baltimore May 23.

The purpose of the meeting will be to receive a report on the tabulation of proxy votes cast May 1. Ireland said formalities will be handled by attorneys for Alleghany's management and the Murchison brothers, who are opposing company chairman Allan P. Kirby for control of the multi-billion dollar firm.

Man Sought 2 Years In Bank Theft Gives Up

NEW YORK (AP)—William C. Radcliffe, who allegedly embezzled $19,000 from a Long Island bank before disappearing more than two years ago, walked into the FBI office here Sunday with 15 cents in his pocket.

The FBI said Radcliffe told an agent he had been living in Baltimore, but came here to give himself up when his money ran out. He walked around the city all Saturday night trying to make up his mind, the FBI said, and walked into the office at 9:30 a.m.

Radcliffe, now 44, had been working on a $65-a-week teller's job at the Patchogue Bank at Patchogue on Long Island for only two weeks when he disappeared in February of 1959.

His wife said he had given her a $100 bill before he vanished, leaving her with their two children. A bank audit showed a shortage in his accounts of $19,010.

While he was sought from coast to coast, Radcliffe was lavishly furnishing two apartments in Baltimore, the FBI said, equipping both of them with high-fidelity sound equipment.

Only three of 13 race tracks, whose meetings have been completed this year, showed an increase in betting. Biggest drop was at Bowie, down ten per cent.

Pressman Says Lobby Reports Years Overdue

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Baltimore attorney said Saturday there are "numerous" reports from legislative lobbyists which are as much as five years overdue.

Attorney Hyman A. Pressman of Baltimore made the disclosure in a letter to Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan. The lawyer asked Finan what he planned to do about the late filing of reports this year and in past years.

Pressman said he checked the docket of lobbyist reports in the attorney general's office and was "startled" to find that 11 reports from 1956 still had not been filed. Under the law, the deadline is 30 days after the General Assembly adjourns.

The law also provides that violators may be fined $100 to $1,000 for failure to comply.

Pressman said his investigation was prompted by the recent disclosure that 43 reports describing the lobbyist activities of 54 agents during the 1961 General Assembly session had not been filed by the May 1 deadline.

"It is bad enough that laxity has been shown to lobbyists in complying with the legal time limit," Pressman said. "However, permitting the reports to go unfilled for a period of years is inexcusable."

SRC System Would End Land-Buying "Haggling"

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Roads Commission has announced the commission is to be based on the value of the land and buying system based on the effect of its seizure on the remainder of the landowner's property.

The new procedure, made public Saturday by Leroy Moser, chief of the commission's right of way division, is designed to eliminate "haggling and horse trading."

The commission will now make but a single offer to landowners whose property is needed for state and highway use, and refusals will result in condemnation proceedings.

The commission noted that a reviewing authority will be empowered to alter the original offer only in cases involving errors.

"The commission will not be arbitrary in determining the offer and (we) will give further consideration to bona fide omission of errors," Moser said.

5 decisions that can help a couple look ahead with confidence

How the unique advantages of life insurance make the right decisions easier—bringing peace of mind at the stroke of a pen.

- 1 To guarantee the family's protection.

With life insurance, a family is protected right from the start. For only life insurance guarantees, at the stroke of a pen, an amount of money far greater than most couples could save in many years.
- 2 To safeguard the home they love.

A prudent husband safeguards the family home by owning enough life insurance to take care of any unpaid mortgage. Life insurance guarantees this protection.
- 3 To provide the children with a college education.

By figuring in advance what it will cost to give their children a college education, parents can make sure—through their life insurance—that college expenses can be met.
- 4 To accept new opportunity when it comes.

The risks of a new business or job opportunity can be assumed more readily when the family is protected by life insurance. And with life insurance, husband and wife know in advance exactly how much money will be available for an emergency at any given time.
- 5 To make a plan for a worry-free retirement.

A husband and wife can get more pleasure from their later years when they plan their life insurance to provide a steady income which will last for both their lifetimes.

The wise family head carefully estimates his family's future needs, then plans his life insurance accordingly. Since family circumstances often change, many couples renew their programs with their life insurance agent each year. In this way, they get the most from the unique advantages of their life insurance.

Be light on your feet.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Have Carefree Feet!

Tired and weak feet, arches, or ankles show up in more than your walk. From the pain that these conditions generate the face is pinched along with the feet.

Rather than give your suggestions for treatment of tired feet, we would like to help you avoid tired feet altogether. The more supple and strong your feet are and the more blood that circulates through them, the less tired you will feel after hours of work, shopping, or sightseeing.

For accelerating correction, kick off your shoes and follow these simple exercises:

1. To strengthen the arches, walk on the outside of the feet with the toes pointed straight to the front. This is a good exercise for those whose feet are apt to appear flat.
2. Sit down. Try to pick up marbles, one at a time, from the floor. Alternate and pick them up with the other foot.

3. Sit on floor with legs straight out and together. Turn feet inward toward each other and try to make the soles touch. Tighten all the muscles of the toes and feet and hold for a slow count of five. Repeat ten times, rest, repeat again.
4. Stand with feet parallel. Rise up on your toes, then slowly bring feet down. Repeat and increase number of times you do this each day.

This recommendation has been made annually by the Otis firm but up until Friday not acted upon. Commissioner John J. Rowan, president of the board, said he had not noticed the absence of the gate but the installation certainly should be made in the interest of protecting the public which uses the lift.

No. 13 When, May 3, 1861, President Lincoln issued a second call for troops — 42,000 volunteers to serve three years—the War Department had no system for supplying or maintaining through its own means such a force (or the 75,000 men Lincoln had asked earlier from the States). The individual States had the responsibility in the beginning of providing the basic daily ration prescribed by the Army: 16 oz. of hardtack, 22 oz. of fresh bread, or 22 oz. of flour; 3/4 pounds of bacon or 1 1/4 pounds of fresh meat, plus coffee and whatever else was at hand. Individual soldiers were expected to get food packages from home or scrounge around for edibles.

It can be imagined how chaotic and inequitable this arrangement was with thousands of men collected in normally sparsely populated areas, often long distances from the soldiers' homes. Even where food quantities were adequate, generally the cooks were men without qualification or equipment for preparing hot, appetizing meals. This [above] was a typical camp kitchen in 1861. The Union was helped to win by the fact that its army was able to improve supply and food service far more than the Rebels as the war continued. The canning industry got its first big stimulus from eventual Union army huge purchases of canned meats, fish, vegetables and milk.—Clark Kinnaird

Tigers, Orioles Drop Twin Bills To Yankees, Cleveland

Tribe Takes First Battle In 15th, 1-0

Bad Throw By Adair Is Factor; Birds Lose Second, 6-4

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland cooled off Baltimore by beating the Orioles twice Sunday, 1-0 in 15 innings, and 6-4 in the nightcap. The opener, the longest contest in the majors this season, was decided on a throwing error by shortstop Jerry Adair as Jim Perry and Frank Funk combined for the shutout.

The Indians rallied to win the nightcap on the power-hitting of Willie Kirkland, who blasted his first American League homer, a three-run shot that broke a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning. Kirkland drove in four runs.

The Orioles, who had won 11 of 15 prior to Sunday, were blanked for 21 innings by Cleveland pitching. But then they broke loose for three runs on four hits, highlighted by Dick Williams' home run leading off the sixth inning.

Billy Hoelt and Perry had dueled brilliantly in the early portion of the first game. Then Funk (3-2) took over and blanked the Orioles over the final seven frames.

Cleveland started its winning rally in the 15th when John Romano walked and Bubba Phillips followed with his third single. Then pinchhitter Bob Hale rapped a grounder through the box. Fisher touched the ball and second baseman Ron Hansen fielded it. He flipped to Adair for a force and the second out, but Adair's relay to first was in the dirt and got away from Walt Drope.

The Indians mounted their winning rally in the seventh inning of the second game, when they chased loser Chuck Estrada (2-2). A walk and singles by Tito Francona and Vic Power tied the score at 3-3. Then Kirkland, a failure up until then as the man counted on as Cleveland's slugger, blasted his homer over the right field fence.

NEW WOMEN'S CHAMPION—Donna Mae Mims, Pittsburgh, Pa., blonde who finished third in the novice regional race on Friday's opening card, won the U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall Trophy in the women's feature event yesterday at the Cumberland National Sports Car Races. She was crowned new champion when Denise McCluggage, four-time winner of the event, did not compete this year. The Pittsburgh lass took an early lead and rode to a comfortable victory in the 20-minute fourth race on the program. She averaged 62.46 miles per hour unofficially in besting five other women opponents.

Fisher's Ace Highlights Industrial Loop Opening

C.&P. Team Upsets Champs; Redmen Trim Wonder Bar

The Cumberland Industrial Golf League opened its season yesterday with the first recorded hole-in-one of the year, a tie team match and an upset.

Charley Fisher, playing for King's Bar against Coney Island, posted a hole-in-one on 135-yard No. 2 at the Fort Cumberland Golf Club course. He used a No. 7 iron to get his ace, the first of the year at the local course. He was playing in a foursome with Joe Holmes, D. Hockman and M. Burke. Fisher received the Crystal Laundry Trophy for making a hole-in-one.

Coney Island and King's Bar tied in their match, 10½ to 10½, and the C. & P. Telephone Company upset McFarland's Auto Shop, last year's champions, 11½ to 6½.

Seattle Racer Is Fastest In Trial For 500

Turner Averages 144.904 On Sunday

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Jack Turner, Seattle, Wash., a former national midget champion, led the way in big cars Sunday as the fastest of five qualifiers for the 500-mile Memorial Day Speedway auto race.

That brought the field in two days of qualifications to 27, leaving only six spots open for next weekend's final time trials to fill the 33-car starting lineup for the holiday chase.

About 35,000 fans watched the trials in sunny weather, but gusty winds up to 25 miles per hour and four accidents, none serious, slowed up the program.

Turner, 41, was clocked at an average speed of 144.904 miles per hour for the 10-mile test. The second fastest qualifier Sunday was Troy Rutman, Dearborn, Mich., the 1952 "500" winner, at 144.79.

The other qualifiers Sunday were Jimmy Daywalt, Indianapolis, 144.71; Bobby Grim, Indianapolis, 144.029; and Bob Vieth, Fort Bragg, Calif., 143.062.

The 27 qualifiers have an average of 145.064, compared with last year's full field average of 144.070.

The fastest qualifier so far is Eddie Sachs, Center Valley, Pa., who won the pole position Saturday at 147.481. That made him only the third driver in speedway history to win the pole two years in a row.

Coates Posts Double Win In Relief Roles

40,968 See New York Beat League Leaders, 5-4, 8-6

By FRED DOWN
NEW YORK (UPI)—Jim Coates pitched six innings of airtight relief to gain credit for both victories Sunday when the New York Yankees beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-4, in 1½ innings, and 8-6, to move within 2½ games of the American League lead.

The slim right-hander, who won the opener when pinch hitter Yogi Berra delivered a single with two out and the bases filled in the 11th inning, came back in the nightcap to hold the Tigers to one run and two hits over the last five innings. The victories raised Coates' record to 3-2 and enabled the Yankees to split the four-game series with the Tigers.

Berra also had two singles in the second game and Mickey Mantle had five hits during the doubleheader to lead the Yankees' attack. Bob Cerv and Bill Skowron hit two-run homers in the opener for the Yankees while Rocky Colavito, Dick Brown and Charlie Maxwell homered in the nightcap for Detroit.

A crowd of 40,968, which had booed Yankee manager Ralph Houk for removing pitcher Whitey Ford in the ninth inning of the first game, gave Berra an ovation when he delivered his game-winning hit off Hank Aguirre. Mantle opened the 11th inning with a single and the bases became loaded with two out when Roger Maris walked and Tony Kubek beat out an infield hit. Berra, backed for Coates, then lined a 2-2 pitch into left field to break up the game.

Ford had faced only 22 batters from the second through the eighth innings, but was removed when Al Kaline opened the ninth with a triple. An infield out, two walks and a two-run double by pinch hitter Larry Osborne enabled the Tigers to tie the score.

Bunning Is Belted
The Yankees ripped starter Jim Bunning for six singles before he retired a batter and scored five runs in the first inning of the second game. Ralph Terry, however, yielded second inning homers to Colavito and Brown and was taken out in the fifth after Maxell's two-run homer cut the Yankees' lead to 7-5.

Coates faced only 17 batters over the last five innings to protect the margin.

Bob Holbert Is Winner Of Feature Sport Cars Race

Donna Mims Is Victor In Ladies Event

Final Race Marred By 2-Car Crackup; Sixth Is Thriller

Two Pennsylvanians, Bob Holbert, Warrington businessman and Donna Mae Mims of Pittsburgh, were crowned champions in the men's and women's features yesterday in the ninth annual Cumberland National Sports Car Races at Municipal Airport.

A crowd estimated at 20,000 saw Holbert lap all his opponents to capture the Edgar D. Vandergrift Memorial Trophy with an unofficial average speed of 74.23 miles per hour for 31 laps in the featured seventh race.

Holbert driving a Porsche RS-61, finished nearly two minutes ahead of Fred Gamble's Maserati Birdcage while Bob Bucher, Binghamton, N. Y., was third in a Porsche RSK.

Accepts Congratulations

The Warrington driver accepts the laurels which had gone to Walter Hansgen of Westfield, N. J., for three straight years and four of the past five. He posed for pictures and accepted congratulations for nearly 15 minutes at the finish line after winning the race with ease.

The defending champion was not present for this year's event, failing to enter because he had been to Italy to complete trials for the Le Mans classic.

Holbert's victory marked the first time a Porsche won the big event and also was his first driving triumph here.

The event started as if it would be a tight battle as Roger Penske in a Telar Birdcage took the early lead and held it in a brief neck-and-neck struggle with Holbert. Penske was averaging better than 75 miles per hour in the early going before he suddenly was forced from the race with motor trouble after six laps.

Quickly Builds Lead

With his chief opponent gone, Holbert quickly built up a comfortable lead and left no doubt in the minds of officials and spectators alike that he could win with ease.

Donna Mims, comely blonde driver of a blue Corvette, wrestled the lead from Mary Haines, another Pittsburgh girl, in the first lap and won with an average unofficial speed of 62.46 miles per hour in the fourth race of the day — the women's feature which was run with an auxiliary race of Formula III small cars. She led through the entire 14 laps.

She received the U.S. Senator J. Glenn Beall Trophy and took over the championship held by Denise McCullage, New York newspaperwoman, for the past four years. The New York champ did not defend her title this year.

The triumph was the first for the Pittsburgh woman who finished third in the novice regional event which opened the races here Friday.

Mary Haines finished second in a Corvette while Suzy Dietrich, Sandusky, Ohio, was third, driving a Porsche.

Sixth Race Thriller

In the Formula III race run with the women's feature, John Cadwa, Riverdale, Md., brought his Cooper home first with a fine 72.09 miles per hour average for 15 laps. Second was George Alderman of Wilmington, Del., and third was James Stevens of Bridgeport, Conn. Both were driving Coopers also.

The sixth race was the most thrilling of the day.

William Mallon, Akron, Ohio; George Frey, Allentown, Pa.; and Charles Stoddard, Willoughby, Ohio, staged a three-car race from start to end with Mallon driving his Turner-Climex across the finish line 12 seconds ahead of Frey and Stoddard who closed just feet apart.

The race covered 27 laps with Herman Meliotti, LaVale, grabbing an early lead and fighting off the challenges of the other three until the 10th lap when the local driver spun out on the sharp S turn in front of the grandstand and dropped back to fourth. Meliotti was driving an Alfa-Velocce and came home in fourth place for a fine showing.

Frey, with a sudden burst of speed, just nosed out Stoddard at the finish as the two were right behind Mallon. Stoddard had held a slight edge in the second-place fight through most of the race.

The finish was so close that neither Stoddard in his Alfa-Velocce nor Frey in a Porsche could make the S turn at the end and had to travel straight down the runway, bumper to bumper, before coming to a halt.

A two-car collision in the ninth and final race slightly marred the day's activities.

The two-car entry of Donald Wolf of Cleveland, Ohio, collided as they came out of the S turn in the first lap of the race. The cars were badly damaged and both drivers were treated at the scene by ambulance attendants for cuts and bruises.

Other Class Winners

Wolf was operating one of his cars while the other was driven by Manny Holder, also of Cleveland.

Smacking the offerings of four hurlers for 16 hits and scoring in five of the eight innings, Manager Raymond "Buck" Fioretti's Barrelville Old Exports extended their winning streak to four games in the Pen-Mar Baseball League by walloping Hyndman's Merchants to the tune of 12-4 yesterday at Barrelville.

Galen McGregor, Ronnie Cade and Ed Parsons shared nine of the 16 blows collected by the defending champions. McGregor rapped three two-baggers, Parsons garnered two triples and a double and Cade had three singles. Leroy Morris, Bill Clauson and Dorrell Kline had two hits each for the Old Exports.

Ed Parsons, who turned back Mt. Savage, 5-1, in his first start, scattered eight hits and struck out five in posting his second pitching triumph of the campaign. Bosley obtained a double and two singles and Lou Hyde also had three safeties for Hyndman.

Charley Rice, who started on the rubber for the Merchants, was battered out in the third inning, and absorbed the loss. He was followed to the mound by Bagley, Whitehair and Hite.

Moorefield Cops Third

Manager Loring "Jimmy" Vance's Moorefield tossers registered their third win in four outings at the expense of Lonaconing in a game played at Moorefield. The score was 4-2.

Outfielder Jimmy Barr, who collected a triple and two singles in Saturday's game with Mt. Savage, had two hits in four trips Sunday and batted in three runs.

Bill Richmond and Bob Mundeno shared four of the eight hits credited to Lonaconing. Curtis Johnson's double drove home 'Coney's first run in the second inning and Richmond's double and a sacrifice fly made it 2-0 in the third inning. Three walks and Jimmy Barr's single produced the first Moorefield tally in the fifth and the Hardy Countians sewed it up with three runs in the sixth when Don Smith, George Hott, Harold Mongold, Jimmy Barr and Harlan Hott singled. Barr's blow accounted for two runs.

Keister Whiffs 17

Robert Keister, Salisbury southpaw, set a season high by striking out 17 batsmen as Cardinals from Pennsylvania shut out the Flintstone Farmers at Flintstone by the score of 6-0.

The win gave Keister a 2-1 record. He tossed a five-hitter and failed to issue a base on balls.

Salisbury pounded Jim Norris for seven hits and five runs in six innings and nicked Russ Jones for one hit and one run in three innings. Norris, the loser, struck out five while Jones whiffed two. Dick Sanders garnered two of the Farmers five safeties.

Jim Brown had a two-bagger and single and Dave Jones garnered two singles to pace Salisbury's nine-hit attack.

Markley Wins For Old G's

Jesse Markley (1-1) vent the route for the Old Germans and yielded 13 hits but never was in danger after Mt. Savage piled up a 7-0 lead in seven innings. Jesse fanned four and did not give up a pass.

THROUGH AT FINISH LINE—This is part of the throng of an estimated 20,000 people who witnessed yesterday's Cumberland National Sports Car Races at Municipal Airport. The hillsides at the finish line is dotted with spectators who braved the hot sun to witness the nine-race card while the cars in the infield appear almost deserted with most of their owners and drivers standing along the fence as the races progress. Several spins and one two-car accident occurred near the finish line.

"Fairies of Dreams" will be presented by Linda Lamberson, Darlene Gowans, Vickie Watten-schmidt, Nancy Stafford, Marsha Rankin, Sue Evans, Cheryl Duncan and Deborah Alexander.

"Mother Goose's Children" will be portrayed in colorful style with traditional songs, dances and costumes by first, and second grade children.

A chorus of lovely "Fireflies" and a group of frogs who will act as jury, add much to making this unusual story a real treat.

Bishop Heads Keyser PTA

KEYSER — Harold E. Bishop, Jr. has been elected president of the local Parent-Teacher Association and along with other new officers was installed at the regular monthly meeting of the organization.

Serving with him for the coming year will be Mrs. John Macleod, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Virgil Hull, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Taylor, corresponding secretary; and James W. Goldworthy, treasurer. The group was installed by Mrs. M. E. Dawson, of Ridgeley, president of the Mineral County PTA Council. Mrs. Thomas Miller, second vice-president, still has another year to serve in her term of office.

Mrs. Glenn Gank, chairman of the nominating committee, submitted her slate which was completely adopted.

Highlighting the program was a panel discussion on advanced enrollment by Virgil Hull, Mrs. James Goldworthy, Mrs. William Kesner, Miss Jean Emily Frost, and Owen E. Schaeffer, members of the faculty.

Principal Goldworthy spoke briefly before the question and answer session pointing out that of last year's graduating class 47 per cent went on to college and other fields of professional study. He said that one's primary concern should be what happens to the other 53 per cent and what can be done to help them.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Ross Prysock after which Mrs. Harry Taylor and Goldworthy gave the secretary-treasurer reports. Mrs. Graham Pifer, who has served as president of the PTA for the past two years, thanked all of her officers and committeemen for the help they rendered during her tenure.

At the conclusion of the installation refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

American carpets are truly international.

It is possible for a single carpet to contain fibers from Argentina, New Zealand, Iran, India, Scotland and North Africa since the wool produced in these countries stands well better than that from U.S. sheep.

As well as discovering the New World, Christopher Columbus is credited with discovering the pineapple. He named it pine because of its resemblance to a pine cone.

Three Men Hurt When Car Rams Into Home Here

Passenger Is Hurl'd Through Windshield

Three local men were injured, including one who was hurled through the windshield of a car which was demolished yesterday morning when it went out of control in the 700 block of Washington Street and rammed into the porch of a dwelling.

James H. Lewis, 25, of 305 Poca Street, driver, sustained a fractured jaw and a laceration of his chin and was reported in "satisfactory" condition in Sacred Heart Hospital last night.

Leroy E. Wheeler, 29, of Benjamin Banneker Apartments on Frederick Street, who was hurled through the windshield, sustained a laceration of his forehead and was admitted to the hospital.

Another passenger in the car, Sylvester Cruise, 31, of 112 South Spruce Street, sustained a knee injury, was examined at the hospital and released.

City Police Officer Richard Maires who investigated the accident about 7:20 a. m. yesterday said the three men were traveling west on Washington Street at an apparent high rate of speed.

The car failed to negotiate a curve at 711 Washington Street, went up over the curb and knocked loose a guard rail post, then came to a stop in front of the home of Robert T. Williams.

Bricks of one of the porch posts were knocked loose by the impact, which caused heavy damage to the car.

The men were taken to the hospital in the local ambulance. Officer Maires said charges are pending the outcome of Wheeler's injuries.

Governor Lauds Dr. Rutledge At Dedication

In dedicating a park in honor of Dr. John Rutledge at Kitzmiller Saturday afternoon, Gov. J. Millard Tawes said, "The plaque which we are dedicating is very appropriately described to Dr. John Rutledge, 'A Child Of God And A Friend Of Man'."

"This park, with its valuable and attractive botanical garden, is a fitting monument to a man whose long and distinguished career as an engineer and public official was punctuated with examples of public benefactions such as this.

"Dr. Rutledge was passionately devoted to the best interests of the state of Maryland, and particularly this part of the state.

"After receiving his degree in mining engineering, he became associated with the coal mining industry, and, on completion of his studies at Johns Hopkins University, where he received a Ph.D. degree in geology, he occupied himself with economic geology and mining geology.

"The state of Maryland in 1922 created the Maryland Bureau of Mines, and Dr. Rutledge resigned a position with the federal government to become chief engineer and director of the bureau.

"He held the position of director of the agency until 1949, when he was made chief consultant, a position he held until a fatal heart attack in 1952 ended his brilliant and varied career.

"Many times in this community and elsewhere, he witnessed the tragedy of coal mining accidents, leading rescue groups into mines to assist the injured and carry out the dead.

"While he was director of the bureau he established night classes for miners enabling them to obtain better positions in the mines and other industries.

"He was always zealous in his efforts to promote the prosperity of the coal mining industry in our state. 'Maryland Coal for Maryland People' was his watchword, and that doctrine he preached in every part of the state until his death.

"Dr. Rutledge was an extraordinarily active man. He was both president and treasurer of the Mine Inspectors Institute of America, and was a member of the National Mine Rescue Association, the National Safety Council, the Illinois Mining Institute, the Mine Rescue Veterans of the Pittsburgh District and the West Virginia Coal Mining Institute.

"It was largely through his efforts that this park land became the public property of the town of Kitzmiller. He used his influence and his great power of persuasion to induce his friends to donate land for the use of the Kitzmiller school . . . the acreage which is now Rutledge Park.

"The citizens of Kitzmiller are to be commended for this splendid community project which now and in the future will serve to enhance the health and the happiness of the people of the area.

"And the Lions Club of Kitzmiller is to be congratulated for sponsoring this ceremony in which we pay tribute to an esteemed Marylander and an illustrious American."

The deraiment of a "Hi-Car Time Saver" which blocked the main lines of the B&O Railroad a mile east of Mt. Lake Park in Garrett County was cleared yesterday about 7:05 p. m., according to a railroad spokesman, who said rail traffic was back to normal.

Frank Powers, Frostburg, chief of the Maryland Bureau of Mines and successor to the late Dr. John Rutledge; Dr. Melvin Brown, former principal at Kitzmiller High School and sponsor of the botanical gardens and park project, now a teacher at Beall High School, Frostburg, and Gov. J. Millard Tawes are shown as they appeared Saturday at the dedication of Rutledge Park in Kitzmiller. ## Mason Named To Office In GOP Federation

Unit Approves Local Resolutions

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney for Allegany County and president of the Allegheny County Young Republican Club, is the second county resident ever elected to an office of the Maryland Federation of Young Republicans.

Mr. Mason was named to the office of vice president of the state group at a two-day meeting which concluded Saturday in Hagerstown. He will serve a two-year term. (See story on page 3).

The only other county resident elected to the state group was J. Glenn Beall Jr. who was named president of the federation in 1953.

Some 11 members of the Allegheny County club attended the meeting and introduced three resolutions which were approved by the state unit.

Two of the resolutions commended Senator J. Glenn Beall and Rep. Charles McC. Mathias for their outstanding service in Congress.

The other resolution was critical of Gov. Tawes and Democratic legislators for a bill which placed the head of the Department of Motor Vehicles under the merit system for "a lifelong job." The resolution also proposed the law be repealed during the next session on grounds that it is against the intent of the Maryland Constitution.

One of the more important resolutions approved at the two-day conference was one which opposed the bill creating the new Eighth Congressional District.

Members of the Allegheny County club told the meeting they will assist the Maryland League of Women Voters in this area in circulating petitions to place the question on a referendum.

Attending from Allegheny County were Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. J. Glenn Beall Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Anderson and Mrs. Sara Rank.

Vepco To Sell Bond Issue

The Virginia Electric and Power Company, which is planning to build a $150,000,000 mine-mouth power station on the Stony River in Grant County, W. Va., about 20 miles from Petersburg, is declaring a quarterly dividend of 3 1/2 cents per share on common stock.

This dividend will be payable June 20 to stockholders of record at the close of business on May 31.

Vepco's board of directors also authorized the registration, under the Federal Securities Act, of $30,000,000 of first mortgage bonds. President A. H. McDowell Jr. said the bonds will be sold at competitive bidding June 13 and the net proceeds will be used to help finance the 1961 construction program of $85,000,000.

The Stony River project, according to Mr. McDowell, is planned eventually to generate 1,000,000 kilowatts. Its first unit, planned for operation in 1965, will have a capacity of about 300,000 kilowatts.

Vepco and three Carolina utilities are progressing on schedule with the construction of their atomic power plant at Parr, S.C. This $43,000,000 experimental plant will use slightly enriched uranium as fuel and have a generating capacity of 17,000 kilowatts. The nuclear plant is being built, primarily, to advance the technology of generation of power from the atom.

Workshop Set This Week At Local Library

Three Counties To Be Represented

Approximately 35 members of library staffs and other interested persons are expected to attend the workshop on reference books at the Cumberland Branch of the Allegheny County Library on Thursday and Friday.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian for the county library, said that Miss Mary Barton, formerly head of general reference at the Enoch Pratt Library will be instructor for the workshop which will be held each day from 10 a. m. until 3:30 p. m.

About 20 persons will represent Allegheny County; three from Garrett County and 10 from Washington County, said Miss Walsh.

The text Miss Barton will use is the Pratt's publication, "Reference Books" a copy of which will be furnished free of charge to each person attending.

Miss Barton plans to open the meeting with one to one and a half hours talking about reference work, its place in the total library program, its importance, how to interview patrons, interpreting requests and general attitudes towards patrons.

After this she will discuss some basic reference tools and then will assign problems to the "students." After time allowed to find answers, the group will re-assemble to discuss the techniques used in searching.

On the second day Miss Barton will discuss more specialized reference books and will assign further problems. This will give considerable opportunity for handling and using the books.

Tawes Renews State Pledge To Aid Kitzmiller With Flood Protection

Remembering two disastrous floods and a number of lesser inundations over the past quarter century, residents of Kitzmiller, in Garrett County, heard Gov. J. Millard Tawes again promise assistance from the state of Maryland on a federal flood control project.

At the formal dedication Saturday of Rutledge Park, a botanical garden started by Kitzmiller High School students in 1948 under the direction of Dr. Melvin Brown, then principal, Gov. Tawes reminded his listeners that a few months ago he promised the state would become a partner with Kitzmiller and with Garrett County to help finance the local share of a flood control project.

At that time, he recalled, the state was asked to provide some $30,000, and did pledge this amount.

More recent surveys by the Corps of Army Engineers indicate the project will exceed by half again the original estimates, and the town is now asked to raise another $16,000. Gov. Tawes said, "We entered into a partnership with you good people of Kitzmiller shortly after I took office, to do something about this flood problem which has plagued you for a couple of generations. We are still partners, and I give you my personal assurance that I will do everything I can to provide the additional funds."

He then explained that the Board of Public Works, of which he is one of three members, meets today and can authorize the expenditure from emergency funds. He said he believes he can persuade the two other members to approve the appropriation.

Accompanied to Kitzmiller by Thomas B. Finan, attorney general, Gov. Tawes flew to Cumberland from Friendship Airport and then motored to Kitzmiller to dedicate the gardens in memory of Dr. John J. Rutledge, formerly chief of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, who was instrumental in obtaining the land for part of the park and school grounds adjacent.

Gov. Tawes was introduced by Walter W. Dawson, Oakland attorney who served as master of ceremonies, after Melvin Arnold, president of the Kitzmiller Lions Club, extended greetings. Rev. Clifford Schell of Kitzmiller Methodist Church offered the invocation and dedicatory prayer, following a concert by Northern

High School Band Of Accident.

George H. Deike, vice president of Mine Safety Appliance Corp. of Pittsburgh, a lifelong friend of Dr. Rutledge; Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of Garrett county schools, and Mr. Finan also spoke.

Mr. Hawkins proposed that "Park Day" in Kitzmiller be made an annual event, and Mr. Finan told his listeners, "This wonderful park is an example of the kind of good things that are possible when people in a community work together." He said, "What has been done and is being done here, will live for generations, not only as a memorial to Dr. Rutledge, but to the teachers and students and citizens who have been a part of it for more than a decade."

Jesse J. Walker and Lewis Hutson headed the committee on arrangements for Park Day, and the Lions Clubs and women's organizations helped sponsor the event. A buffet dinner was served in the school after the dedication and a tour of the park and the school grounds and buildings.

Special tribute was made to Dr. Brown, now a teacher at Beall High School in Frostburg. It was said, "Rutledge Park came into being as a result of the devoted efforts of a skillful teacher who was able to inspire his students and associates with a desire to know and enjoy more of their natural surroundings."

Band-O-Rama Is Popular, May Become Annual Event

The Junior Association of Commerce may make an annual event of the Band-o-Rama, which 1,200 persons saw for the first time Saturday night at Fort Hill Stadium.

Although it wasn't as big a financial success as the Jaycees had hoped, the drum and bugle corps competition was a tremendous popular success.

The proposed contract will cover some 1,700 hourly paid workers at the local plant and will replace a two-year pact which was due to expire May 6.

Court Probates Wills Of Two

Wills of two persons who died last month have been probated in Allegheny County Orphans Court.

One was the last testament of Mrs. Elizabeth E. Stakem, who was an 83-year-old resident of Midland when she died April 23. Her son, Patrick, who lives at the Algonquin Hotel, which he manages, qualified as executor under a $500 bond.

She left her estate equally to her two daughters and three sons under terms of the will dated October 4, 1959. One of her sons, Thomas, is chairman of the United States Maritime Commission in Washington.

Also probated recently was the will of Walter Clifton Clark, who was a 59-year-old resident of 711 Arundel Street at the time of his sudden death April 29. He sustained a heart attack while at work as a dispatcher for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

His wife, Mrs. Dorothy Louise Clark, who was the sole beneficiary, qualified as executrix under a $500 bond. This will was dated March 30, 1959.

Carnival Begins This Evening

The Ridgeley Volunteer Ambulance Unit will sponsor a carnival today through Saturday on Bridge Street in that community.

The proceeds will be used to purchase a later model ambulance than the one now being used.

Donald Jewell and Melvin Dawson, co-chairmen, said the carnival will feature rides and entertainment by the George Clyde Smith Shows.

Members of the ambulance unit will be in charge of concessions, refreshments, food and games booths. A matinee for the children will be held on Saturday from 1 to 5 p. m.

Second-place winners were the Colonials of Latrobe, Pa., with 65.4 points. The Colonials appeared in Westernport last year for a competition during Blue Jay Week and finished fourth behind the Esquires.

Westernport's own Blue Angels, easily the local favorites, came in third with 64.8 points after a snappy, smooth-cadenced performance. In fourth place were the plume-helmeted Free Staters of Hagerstown, whose smooth bugling and effective dynamics won first prize in the Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester, Va.

The best marching and some of the best music of the evening were the work of the all-girl Meridian, Pa., Five and Drum Corps, which was not competing. The girls, looking fresh after marching the entire route of the parade Saturday afternoon, breezed flawlessly through a performance that included fancy marching formations and dance routines set to modern music.

Also exhibiting but not competing were the Cardinal Junior Drum and Bugle Corps of Crabtree, Pa., and the Mount Savage High School Band, which stayed over after marching in the afternoon parade to open the evening program at the stadium.

Awards were presented to the winners by W. Bruce Douglas, president of the Jaycees.

More Complex Sales Tax In Effect June 1

Many New Items Will Be Taxable

By KEN DUNCAN BALTIMORE (AP)—Just about everything from ice cream cones to chop suey will be subject to the sales tax in Maryland June 1.

That's the effective date of new and more complex sales tax law, which not only reduces the starting point from 51 cents to 25 cents, but includes prepared food (restaurant meals) costing $1 or more.

The 1961 General Assembly redesigned the sales tax structure to yield revenues to partially finance a new $14.7 million program of aid for local governments.

Maryland legislators also approved a bill increasing the State-wide cigarette levy to a uniform six cents a pack. That charge, scheduled to take effect July 1, is expected to yield an additional $5.1 million for the aid plan.

The state cigarette tax is now three cents a pack in all jurisdictions. Baltimore City and five counties had tacked on local taxes but the new law repeals them.

Aid For Education
The $14.7 million in local aid, earmarked for education and welfare, will be distributed to Baltimore City and the counties on the basis of population.

Maryland Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein says his office has distributed some 48,000 rate charts and other data for use by merchants and sales personnel in determining which items will be taxable, which won't be subject to the tax and how much the tax should be.

He admitted that all the new wrinkles have not been ironed out of the sales tax law.

Here is one apparent reason why:
A consumer who buys five 10-cent ice cream bars can escape the tax by paying for them individually. If he pays for them collectively, the bars will cost him two cents extra.

In the early weeks of the expanded sales tax, there likely will be some confusion at check-out counters — especially at restaurants.

For instance, a customer who orders a meal costing 90 cents and a 25-cent bottle of beer will have to pay one penny tax because the beer is the only taxable item. However, if the meal cost $1, the taxable sale, including the beer, would be $1.25 and the tax would be four cents.

Tax Guide Listed
The Maryland comptroller outlined these guides to help sales personnel and the consumer:

1. Taxable food items are not to be combined with taxable non-food items until the charges for the food items reach $1.
2. To be taxable the food must be prepared, not frozen and not a general grocery store commodity.
3. All bakery and dairy items are exempt except ice cream when sold in containers of less than a pint. Popicles, half pint packages and ice cream cones are taxable.

4. Prepared food is not taxable unless the total selling price of the food is $1 or more. Carryout foods in the prepared category, including chop suey, spaghetti and chow mein, also are taxable. This is how the tax will be computed:
Items retailing for 25 to 33 cents are taxed one cent, $4 to 66 cents — 2 cents, 67 cents to $1 — 3 cents. Prepared food also will be taxed under the three-part bracket system, but becomes taxable only when the price of the meal is $1 or more.

Some Items Exempt
Adding to the problem of computing the tax, is the problem of remembering just which items are taxable and which ones are exempt.

Here are some examples:
Peanut butter in the jar is not taxable, but a peanut butter sandwich, if combined with other prepared foods to cost $1, will be subject to the tax.

Uncooked sliced roast beef is exempt, but beefsteak is not. The same is true for raw onions and fried onion rings, popcorn in the kernel form and popped popcorn, uncooked crab cakes and fried crab cakes.

All alcoholic beverages are taxable regardless of whether they are sold across the bar, with a meal or as a carryout item.
